

Booster club formed

The Who, Longview-Kelso Drum and Bugle Corps, has a parents booster club to assist with corps projects.

Officers of the new group are Bob Hare, president; Mrs. Hare, vice president; Myrtle Huffman, secretary; Liz Avery, treasurer; Margaret Schmidt, public relations; and Dwain Avery, transportation.

The club also will provide chaperones for out-of-town trips.

The Who, 56 persons from the local area, was rebuilt in January by Denise LaBerge and William Perkins, director, from only two original members of the former corps, The Mustangs. Members are aged 8 to 21.

Uniforms were borrowed from the now defunct Astoria Drum and Bugle Corps.

The Who took part in the Muscular Dystrophy Association's parade in Longview Saturday.

The public is invited to the corps rehearsal show Thursday evening at Schroeder Field in Kelso. The corps will be preparing for competition in Surrey, British Columbia, Aug. 27.

The corps recently sponsored a drum and bugle corps competition in Longview and other fund-raising events.

This is the first time a corps parents booster club has been organized.
