

Rangers capture more honors

The Pendleton Rangers Junior Drum and Bugle Corps garnered more honors for themselves and for the Roundup City this past weekend.

The Rangers traveled to Seattle for the Pacific Northwest Championship Competition sponsored by the Thunderbird Drum and Bugle Corp of Seattle.

The Rangers placed 1st in the B division for all Corps with the Salem Flamingo's 2nd and the Cascade Cadets of Seattle 3rd. In overall competition the Rangers placed second only to the Thunderbirds.

Several individual honors were gained also. Jay Seale was awarded the perpetual trophy as the outstanding drum major in competition; Steve Chorazy was 1st in tenor drum; Roger Allen 3rd in snare drum; Tom Chorazy 1st in baritone bugle; Ron Phillips 2nd in soprano bugle; Tom Williamson 3rd in base baritone bugle; the rifle quartet of Teddy White, Cinda Heckerroth, Susy McMillan and Sandy Perriman were 2nd; the rifle duet of Susy McMillan and Sandy Perriman placed 2nd; and the rifle solo 3rd place was won by Kay Allen.

Transportation to and from Seattle was furnished by the parents of the members of the Corp. Ted White is Corp Director, Dave Heckerroth is color guard director, and Marsha Jones, color guard captain.
